This Language is part of the core 200 language list used for the World Atlas of Language Structures (see http://wings.buffalo.edu/linguistics/dryer/atlas). We are supporting this entire 200 language list as a part of the Rosetta 1,000 Language Archive effort.

We do not think a Genesis translation has been done for this language, so if you have the ability, we hope you will consider creating one. We are also in need of other materials relevant for the other text types.

Thank you very much,

Jim Mason
Director, Rosetta Project
jimmason@longnow.org